

Holman's Employees Volunteer to Build Harmony House for Habitat for Humanity

Several Holman's Employees spent a Saturday building a foundation and putting up walls for a new home in the South Valley. The home will go to a single mother and her two young children

The employees who volunteered on Dec. 3 are: Tony Trujillo, Jim Harty, Rita Van Wart, Shawna Zapata, Ed Duran (and wife Carleen), and Sara

Del Curto (with boyfriend Joseph Sanders).

Everyone who participated agreed that volunteering for Habitat for Humanity was a great experience.

"Helping the Vasquez family was rewarding to me. They will have their own home in just a few months and are looking forward to moving in," said Tony Trujillo, President & General Manager of Holman's, Inc.

Shawna Zapata, Sales Fulfillment Specialist, said her favorite part was meeting the family they were helping. "Seeing the mother's smiling face as each wall went up was more rewarding than I could have ever imagined," she said.

Ed Duran, Shipping & Receiving Coordinator, and his wife Carleen said it was a wonderful and moving experience. To go from a foundation to four walls was totally amazing!" Ed said.

Sara Del Curto, Accounting Intern, said it was inspiring to see so many volunteers braving the cold to help out. "I hope this becomes a regular volunteer experience," she said.

Holman's plans on volunteering for Habitat for Humanity again in 2012.
